Dedicated to the recognition of the men and women of the Coffeyville area, who were in the armed forces in times of national peril. Victorious defense of the freedoms gained by our forefathers in 1776, has marked the accomplishment of our armies in each instance of conflict where our sovereignty was at stake. Hence, a deep debt of gratitude is due to the armed forces of the United States. May the names of the men and women who went out from Coffeyville or nearby community to help win the war be indefinitely preserved.

A COMMUNITY EXPRESSION

As the organized representative of the citizens and interests of Coffeyville and adjacent communities, we take especial pride in this opportunity to extend to the men and women of this area who were in the armed forces of one or more of our last three wars, the sincere gratitude of those who were privileged to remain on the home front in time of such national peril as war and to retain a semblance of normal life and a normal economy.

You of the armed forces, on the contrary, were separated from your homes, your friends, your business or profession, your familiar places of social entertainment or recreation, your places of religious worship--and forced to a great or less degree to improvise your individual lives on a day to day basis, encounter unfamiliar conditions and situations and to do things often foreign to your inclinations or taste or even tolerance.

Others of you by fate made the supreme sacrifice while serving your country that we who would survive might enjoy a continuation of the liberties, prerogatives and securities, which, in time of war, had been attacked by the military forces of mighty nations bent on aggression and the usurpation of those sacred freedoms--and the establishment in their lieu, a vassalage unthinkable and intolerant to a free people.

In humble admiration of your deeds, courage, unselfishness and example, we salute you and pay this tribute of recognition.

Thus far in the march of mankind through the centuries, military force has been the determining factor in the survival or death of nations engaged in armed hostilities. Men of vision and faith maintain that we shall soon supplant reason for arms and outlaw war. However, our firm wishes to pay tribute to the men and women of the U. S. Army who were inducted in times of national peril. Without them the freedoms which have made the United States the greatest democracy upon the earth would have been lost.

Our vaunted freedoms of worship, speech, press, enterprise, franchise and expression of personality—our genius at creation, our freedom from at least crippling want, our security of life and limb and our rights to liberty and the pursuit of happiness—all add up to America. Enjoyment of these freedoms have developed the American personality which has made us all but invincible to any foe whose life is inhibited by a dictator. That is why our men and women of the armed forces are highly important in times of emergency. More power to them.

To be of the armed forces has ever meant being in a class quite apart from the civilian life. It has been so in all countries and even among the tribal savages. But whatever the origin of this conception of the soldier, our people of today still hold a deep admiration for him. Our firm is glad to avail itself of this opportunity to pay tribute to the men and women of our armed forces. In our time they have successfully defended our political freedoms and our democratic institutions. The preservation of their names in this volume is a remarkable gesture of gratitude.

GES'S
 EAD

Thrice in 50 years, our nation has been the victim of designing powers abroad, and its free institutions jeopardized. But on each occasion our armed forces were victorious. They preserved intact our freedoms gained from Britain in 1776. We are glad to add our praise to the men and women of the U. S. armed forces. We would revere especially those who made the supreme sacrifice.

"I learned to appreciate America when I was with the 529th Engineers in France, back in World War I. I saw that it was the spirit of courage and initiative that made the American youth a 'dangerous' soldier to the enemy. I was tremendously impressed by the obvious superiority of everything in the United States. I resolved then and there I would go back to America and help my community and nation and so live that I would have paid my rent and taxes on the space I had occupied while here. And, now when I recall the many precious American freedoms that have been guarded, defended and preserved by our military I hasten to dedicate this space to the men and women of the armed forces to the end that their services may not be forgotten."

We gladly pay tribute to the United States armed forces and to the splendid cooperation given them by the conversion of peace industry to war goods manufacture, by the farmers of the nation who greatly increased their production of food stuffs and by our railroads and steamship lines for their remarkable handling of transportation. We would also pay special tribute to our veterans who made the supreme sacrifice. May our sympathy go out to their bereaved.

Our nation's bulwark of defense which has so signally defended and preserved the great institutions of democracy and freedoms for which our forefathers fought 171 years ago, has since rested in the men and women of the armed forces of the United States. But for them, the New World structure erected by Washington, Jefferson and their contemporary patriots, would have crumbled long, long ago. Everything we cherish and count worth while today belongs to those defenders, for without them, we would be in political bondage, social and economic slavery and hopeless to alter our plight. That is the size of the debt of gratitude we owe the men and women of our armed forces, some of whom came from our own plant. Let us keep "THEIR NAMES" in our homes and public and school libraries that posterity may know who personally helped preserve our nation.

Identification with the soldiery has ever been regarded as a singular distinction. Perhaps its cause lies in the fact that the soldier constitutes a sharp challenge at all times to our sense of patriotic duty. But whatever the cause we of the home front hold a deep and abiding admiration for the men and women of the armed forces, which defend, protect and preserve our freedoms. For those soldiers who do not return because they have made the supreme sacrifice, we hold an even deeper regard, because they truly died for their country. May we especially never forget to honor our war-hallowed dead and to be ever sympathetic in our contacts with the bereaved relatives.

Our nation has been attacked on three memorable occasions in the last half century. But its institutions survived intact, thanks to the men and women of the armed forces who served in those critical days. Also we would herewith expressly pay tribute to those veterans who made the supreme sacrifice for their country.

METERY

d restful burial spot.)

COFFEYVILLE, KANSAS

We salute the men and women of Coffeyville and vicinity, who were in the armed forces in one or more of the three wars of the last half century involving our nation. Those men and women formed the bulwark that was erected between our nation and its aggressors. Our debt of gratitude for their protection and their achievement is essentially great. If they had fallen all that we hold dear in American life would have gone with them.

Coffeyville, Kansas

Armed forces of the United States have twice in the space of time our firm has been in business in Coffeyville, have answered the challenge of aggressor nations by forthright avenging action against their sinister designs. And, but for the free men and free women of a free land, the people of the United States might have been blitzed back into the dark ages, chained in social slavery and their freedoms wrested from them. So naturally we take off our hats to the men and women of our armed forces. May we never forget their triumph in war and what their failure would have spelled for us all.

Only by means of a vehicle such as this volume is, could our firm hope to have a part in the intimate personal recognition of the men and women, who served in the armed forces in times of national peril. Especially do we prize the opportunity to honor those veterans who made the supreme sacrifice in behalf of their country's welfare. Therefore, we are most pleased to dedicate this space to our soldiery, living and dead.

We are pleased to express our appreciation of the services performed by the men and women of this community who were in the armed forces in time of national peril. We are also touched by the sorrows of the bereaved relatives of the veterans who made the supreme sacrifice for their country. May the names of all veterans never be forgotten.

In tribute to the several thousand men and women of Coffeyville and vicinity, who were in the United States armed forces in times of war peril; in sympathy to the mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, widows and children of those who made the supreme sacrifice--and in appreciation of the splendid cooperation as exemplified in the near fantastic increase in production of armament, food, improved transportation and general stimulation of the whole war effort--until aggression was stopped and hostilities ended in unconditional surrender of the Enemies.

IN HOMAGE

We would pay homage to the thousands of men and women of Coffeyville and adjoining communities, who were in the U. S. armed forces in one or more of our last three wars. Our fighting forces have been our bulwark of defense for the freedoms our forefathers gained in blood. Also we would extend our sympathy to the mothers, fathers, wives and children of those veterans who made the supreme sacrifice. May the names of our veterans, living or dead, be preserved, "lest we forget" what they did.

COFFEYVILLE, KANSAS

War is stark tragedy. Its prevalence through the ages has not softened its desecrations. Mothers' hearts, crushed and broken, have strwn the entire sordid trail of needless agony, death and wretchedness, the handmaidens of armed hostility. Our nation on notable occasions has had to defend itself against the enemies of free government. Hence, to the men and women of our armed forces in those emergencies, goes the blessings of all good citizens of the United States. Moreover, it is with especial reverence and sympathy for the beloved relatives and friends of those who made the supreme sacrifice for their country that we would offer our humble sentiments of condolence. A devotion unto death is indeed a challenge to our deepest admiration. May their souls rest in peace.

We of America, who have only recently emerged from the holocaust of war, recall perusing the lists of men and women slated for induction into the armed forces. They were leaving the local world they knew for a world they did not know. Some of those who went forth did not return. They passed on. But the rolls of honor of both the living and the dead from this community, appear in this bound volume. We dedicate this page to all of the men and women of this locality who served in the U. S. armed forces. May their names be long preserved.

CHETOPA

S, KANSAS

Within a half century, we of the United States have witnessed the looming over our horizon three dark, threatening war clouds--and the storms that followed. Needless to mention, perhaps, had it not been for our armed forces with their united background of armament and productive capacity, our promising young nation might easily have gone down to ignominious defeat, probably to have been absorbed as a satellite by an aggressor country. Yes, America owes a Gargantuan debt of gratitude to our armed forces. May they never be forgotten.

COFFEYVILLE, KANSAS

Recognition of the sacrifices and achievements of our armed forces is a paramount obligation upon all. We should never forget what the veterans did in our world wars. Neither should we fail to pay tribute to American genius, enterprise and the know how of production. It was the composite of many distinctive American factors that overtook our enemies and compelled their utter capitulation.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Sgt. Richard E. Beard, who made the supreme sacrifice for his country, April 25, 1945, on Okinawa:

Although the time must surely come,
When loved ones have to part,
Your being taken so soon lays,
A shadow on our hearts,
But we are sure we'll meet again
On that far-distant shore,
Where all the grief of parting past,
The sun will shine once more.

Dedicated by these loved ones: Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Beard, Mr. and Mrs. Don Kiser and Mrs. Nora Beard, for insertion in "THEIR NAMES", a volume dedicated to the men and women of this locality who were in the armed forces of the U. S., in one or more of our last three wars.

We gladly join other interests in our community to pay homage to the men and women of Coffeyville and vicinity who were in the armed forces of the United States in times of national emergency. Certainly our armies have been a bulwark of defense against enemies, without and within, for our nation since its launching 171 years ago. We would also reverently extend our sympathy to the immediate families of those veterans who made the supreme sacrifice. May we not fail to keep the names of our veterans, both the dead and the living, fresh of memory. "Their Names" will greatly help to that very thing.

Early committee appointed to organize American Legion Post in Coffeyville, August 25, 1919.

The following World War I veterans were named at a meeting held in Coffeyville the evening of Aug. 25, 1919, to organize an American Legion post in Coffeyville. An item in The Daily Journal refers to the committee as charter members, but since there existed at the time no source with authority to issue a charter, some members of that group recall that the men, whose names appear below were appointed to be a committee to look after the preliminaries looking toward the perfecting of a post organization in the near future. The national charter convention to complete that body, equipped with a constitution and by-laws, was convened at Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 10, 1919. However, the U. S. Congress had authorized a charter as of Sept. 16, 1919. Before that (in May 1919) at a meeting in St. Louis, called by Col. Theodore Roosevelt II, with a representation of two delegates from each state present, had adopted a tentative constitution and a preamble to it. But it was powerless to operate until after Congress had acted and compliance with the congressional act had been completed. The committee:

P. S. It may be fittingly mentioned in this foot note, perhaps, that at a meeting as of March 13, 1943, the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 20, went on record as endorsing a proposal by C. C. Drake to publish a book containing the Honor Roll of World War II veterans, and suggesting that the honor roll of World War I be included. The organization also offered to both cooperate and assist in the compilation of this volume.
